The Vegélya Identités pillow uses the body's heat to create your morphological imprint. It lightens pressure points and ensures an optimal and interactive position in your night-time movements. The pressure-relieving properties of our Végélya pillows ensure a peaceful night's sleep and help relieve back, neck, circulation and painful joint problems. The honeycombed memory foam moulds to the contours of your neck and allows a constant flow of air, maintaining a good temperature.

Density 55 to 70 kg / m3.

An ecological innovation!
Memory foam enriched with activated carbon. The Vegelya pillow is made of visco-elastic foam enriched with activated carbon. Its shape memory design adapts to the shape of the body without any pressure points. The air circulates to ensure a restful night's sleep without overheating.
The unique and innovative activated carbon purifies the air exhaled by your plant pillow, unlike conventional pillows. Thanks to its airy design, it helps to naturally absorb the moisture released by the body during the night.
