Linseed lumbar or cervical heating cushion

- 835196

- The pain-relieving benefits of flaxseed combined with heat
- For gentle, long-lasting warmth
- Heat in the microwave

These cushions provide gentle, evenly distributed heat to the parts of the body they come into contact with. The cushions are flexible and adapt perfectly to all body shapes. Flax seeds are naturally pain-relieving and store heat from the microwave, releasing it slowly. The thick, ultra-comfortable anthracite grey cover is very soft on the skin. The covers are sewn internally to prevent the flax seeds from spilling out of one side of the cushion. Surface cleaning only.

Cushion with side seam for use on the lower back or around the neck.
